

Eleven Seek School, Library Posts

Filing for two seats on the board of the Placentia Unified School District and for two trustees of the Placentia Library District was completed at 5 p.m. Monday with eight declaring their candidacy for PUSD and three for the library.

Two persons taking out papers failed to file for each race.

Running for the school board will be incumbent John Balducci, who is a project coordinator at Autonetics;

James M. Ellstrom, a political science student; E. Blaine Schoolcraft, an investment consultant; Guy Ehrlich, a planning manager; Stanley Interrante, a deputy sheriff; William J. Cook, a mechanical engineer and Dr. Phillip W. Borst, a Fullerton College administrator. All are from Placentia.

The eighth is James R. Jamieson, a business management consultant from Anaheim. Taking out papers but failing to return them were John W. Prager, Jr., attorney and Barbara Williams, a housewife and former teacher. Prager is from Placentia. Mrs. Williams lives in Fullerton.

The three candidates for the two seats on the Library Board are Clairee B. Tynes (the only woman candidate in either race) who has been active in efforts to save the Bradford House; John S. Fahy, a retired systems analyst and former Navy captain; and Edwin W. Juel, who has his own real estate brokerage.

Failing to file was attorney John W. Prager, Jr. and Dick Acton, a computer systems administrator at Autonetics.

The only new name in the filing this past week was school board contender Dr. Phillis W. Borst, Placentia.

Dr. Borst was born in Fullerton, completed high school and Fullerton College there. He received both a bachelors and masters degrees in political science from Stanford University. His PhD degree is from Claremont Graduate School.

He is currently vice president for instruction at Fullerton College.

Dr. Borst has been a resident of Placentia for 13 years and says that his main concern in seeking the PUSD post is an interest in the quality of education.

He and wife Margo have three youngsters, all attending Valencia High School—David, Kris and Pam.

He is a member of the California Community College Administrators and of Phi Delta Kappa, an education fraternity. His campaign manager is Norman Kamin of Yorba Linda.

Balducci, in the school board race, is the only incumbent in the two campaigns. John Press, now president of the PUSD board withdrew from the race in the early stages. Balducci is vice president. Incumbents Alfred Aguirre and Irene Czaplinski decided not to seek re-election to the library district board.

Election for the school board and library seats as well as one place on the North Orange County Community College board for District Three, as well as seats for the two other districts, will be held on March 8.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY FOR MORE THAN 66 YEARS

Volume 66— Number 24

Placentia, California— Wednesday, January 5, 1977

A FRESH NEW YEAR of hopes and dreams opens wide and nature wipes the slate clean with refreshing showers and tingling air. It's 1977 and the two sentinels flying high in rain-cleaned Placentia skies are taking advantage of everything that California has to offer. It's a new day, a new year and the Placentia Courier wishes everyone the best of everything in the year ahead. (Photo by Debra Conkey).

Letters To The Editor The Voice Of The People

Dear Courier:

Regarding the voice of the people and the Bradford House. Pardon my questioning, but are you absolutely sure that the city council indicated there had been no positive input?

My involvement and interest in the Bradford House has been very evident to citizens of the community (though at the outset my purpose was purely to acquire knowledge on the ballot measure)—so much so that numerous persons have told me that they had made or would make their supportive interests known to the city council by letter, phone or in person. My knowledge of the calibre of those people is such that I cannot believe that not one of them did in fact what they said they'd done or intended to do.

You have put forth a new proposition: to demolish or not to demolish. The five on council say yes. The twelve signatures on the Blue Ribbon Report say no.

The numerous non-profit organizations which made overtures of interest and intent to the Blue Ribbon Committee (who had no stature to confirm, deny, encourage or discourage) was overwhelming evidence that a need exists for low rent facilities for social and service housing; especially in the northern part of the county where the mushroom growth is taking place.

Having just gone through the house again yesterday I believe little more than replacement of windows and screens, door knobs and a good vacuuming would be required for the totally sound structure to be put into useful service. More extensive refurbishing could be shelved until already allocated federal, state or county funds, for which the house would undoubtedly qualify, could be so designated.

Could it be that we've become so polarized over this issue that we've allowed emotion to interfere with good judgement and practicality?

In this "disposable age" let's be sure we don't confuse fine bone china with styrofoam.

Clairee Tynes,

Save The Bradford House!

Betty Mead, Editor
Placentia Courier

Dear Betty:

This is written in defense of the Bradford Home which several of Placentia's civic leaders want to destroy.

In reading your article this morning, it became clear to me that this auction or demolition is precisely an example of one of the major crisis—that of passivity—society faces today. It is part of the decay being felt, consciously and subconsciously. It is representative of the "buy and toss-out society." Questions we face: Where are the traditional responsibilities; the links with the past; the roots we all seek? Particularly in this part of the nation, many are faced with the empty feeling and with value systems that are not sustaining.

Having grown up in an old inn built by my grandfather in the Eastern part of the nation, I am—at middle age—constantly analyzing what is important to me and what is not. Somehow, concrete blocks, windows, black-top driveways, free-ways and shining chrome do not replace values deep inside. Values like seeing miles of forest, bubbling brooks, friendly neighbors, beautiful old homes, and breathing clean air. Many of us spend a large part of every day fighting to keep our links with the past alive because there are so many ways in which even one link can be snuffed out. The Bradford Home is a cause and today's article is an excellent way in which a newspaper can champion a cause. Somehow, someone must find a way to save the heritage; the significance; the character of this structure.

Those of us who live in Placentia should wake-up and recognize the aspects of this situation that really are important and not let such a selfish, selfless decision live. Rather, let those few who made the decision find something else to play with as this beautiful gift is far, far too valuable to let a lack of foresight see it slip away. And perhaps the experience of saving the Bradford Home can bring a new unity to Placentia in which all would feel revitalized and activated!

Count on me.

Homes Fail To Meet Standards

Two of the three homes monitored in the S and S (Shapell) tract of expensive homes within 300 feet of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad tracks in Placentia, have failed to meet their noise attenuation conditions of approval, the Orange County Health Department has advised the city.

The report was scheduled for discussion at the Tuesday night meeting of the city council.

Also before the city council will be a recommendation from city staff members that eight of the S and S homes within the 300 foot zone, still under construction, not be issued occupancy permits until all homes in the tract are in compliance. The homes are located on the extension of Chapman Avenue east of City Hall.

The recommendation follows the second noise study done under county health department auspices. Between the two tests, one in July, 1976 and the other in November, the city passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of locomotive whistles as trains pass through the city.

The prohibition is thought to have reduced the Community Noise Equivalent Level (CNEL) by about three points, still, however not enough for clearance.

The report to city council Tuesday night pointed out that in June 1976, the planning department began to receive railroad noise complaints from residents of Placentia Village Estates in the S and S homes by the railroad tracks.

The homeowners held a series of meetings with Shapell, railroad and city officials following the first noise study. Noise levels were not to exceed 68-CNEL on the exterior of the homes or 47 CNEL inside the houses.

These levels, however, have already been abandoned for future Placentia developments with the city now seeking more stringent levels.

The July tests were reported in September and "two of the three" (Continued on Page 2)

Homeowners Plea Denied By Brea

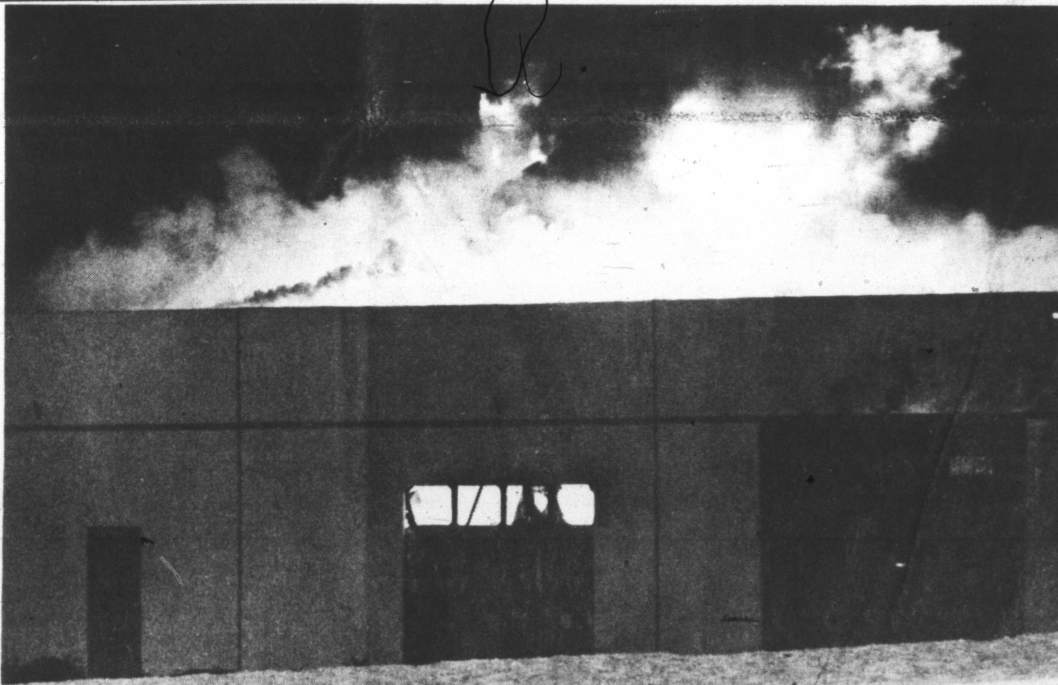

Placentia residents living in expensive homes on the northern boundary of the city, will have only a 20-foot buffer strip with five gallon trees to separate them from an immediately adjacent 83-acre industrial complex according to an unanimous vote by the Brea City Council.

Turning down the homeowners plea, Brea city councilmen agreed with their three-member Board of Zoning Adjustment, who previously held a hearing on request from the Moreland Development Company of Simi Valley, a subsidiary of Union Oil. The company petitioned to proceed with plans to develop the 83 acres.

Placentia homeowners had sought an extensive earthen berm as a buffer between the two uses.

The new decision will permit the developer to proceed with rough grading, landscaping, street improvements, curbs, gutters, sewers and storm drains, to prepare the (Continued on Page 2)

VIOLENCE ERUPTS and the skies turn to flames and smoke. This fire, thought to have been started by an explosion, destroyed or damaged three units in the industrial complex building on the southwest corner of La Jolla Road and Melrose Street, Placentia. Arson is suspected as cause of the conflagration. Around 55 firefighters reported to fight the blaze which took 40 minutes to bring under control. Merging on the site from Orange County and Anaheim fire departments were seven engines, three aerial ladder trucks, a paramedics, a lighting truck and miscellaneous trucks and cars. Damages were estimated as high as $650,000 to structure and contents. The fire apparently began in the spray painting booth of California Custom Vans and burned angrily out of control into two other units. More pictures on Page 13. Photo by Bob Caswell

Three Will Run For College Seat

The March 8, 1977 election in Orange County will fill one seat in the Third District of the North Orange County Community College District. The area includes Placentia and Yorba Linda.

Competing for the post will be incumbent Salvador Zavala, Placentia and Yorba Linda residents, I. Lee McClendon, 31, who is on the technical staff at Autonetics and Dr. Geraldine Ardmon, who is a teacher at Orchard Elementary School in the Placentia Unified School District and also a nurse.

Zavala has held the seat since the beginning of the NOCCCD board and was a part of the organization of the district. The district includes Fullerton College and Cypress College.

A third site owned by the district and located in Yorba Linda is one of the main reasons for McClendon seeking the position. He lives near the Yorba-Linda site and states that he is especially interested in how it is developed.

McClendon is currently serving on the Yorba Linda District Library board and is the second vice-president of the Orange County Special Districts Board, which includes the Yorba Linda and Placentia libraries and a number of other entities.

He has attended the University of Southern California and has a BA degree in mathematics from the University of California at Fullerton.

Juveniles Arrested For Tire Slashing

A rash of tire slashings on as many as 20 vehicles in the Brookhaven, Ponce, Purdy Avenues section of Placentia, has brought charges against a 15-year-old Placentia youth and a 14-year-old from Anaheim for malicious mischief. The tire destruction, estimated at about $50 a tire, is expected to tally somewhere around $1,000 in damages.

The tires apparently were attacked with darts and two different kinds of knives, according to police records.

One Guilty In Placentia Murder Case

A verdict of guilty of first degree murder was returned last Wednesday against Richard (Preacher) McKay in the murder case of Erwin Sutton, 22, whose body was found in the Placentia orange grove.

Three other persons are scheduled to face trial in the bizarre case which ended at the local site near Kraemer Junior High School where youngsters found the body.

The jury deliberating ten hours also found McKay guilty of first degree robbery, of committing great bodily injury during commission of a robbery, of committing real bodily injury during commission of a robbery and assault with a deadly weapon.

Testifying in the preliminary hearings of the trial were Placentia Police Officers, Lt. Darryll Thomann, Sgt. Alan Welch and Sgt. Dick Smith.

UNEXPECTED COMPANY arrived at the Roger David home in Brea last week as an automobile driven by Mrs. Walter Wiegand, also of Brea, plunged through the outside wall, an interior wall and disappeared completely inside the house. Here efforts are being made to remove it. The damage was estimated at $6,000 or more and fortunately there were no injuries. Not so fortunate were individuals involved in a similar accident in Santa Ana where a car crashed through a garage and home filled with a New Year's Eve party. Nine were injured.

A CHRISTMAS TREE was the site of a fire that raged through rooms of a home at 2201 Deepark, Fullerton, near the Placentia border, as Fullerton firefighters worked for half an hour to bring the blaze under control. At home at the time was occupant Leslie Conti who was watching television in the living room. The home belongs to Richard Henderson of Fullerton. Flames spread to the roof and attic causing $15,000 damage to the structure and $5,000 to the contents. A bird and cat were lost in the conflagration and a dog was saved. The fire occurred Wednesday after Christmas. In the picture below, a firefighter attempts to save some of the furnishings.

CALIFORNIA'S DROUGHT had a brief intermission as skies clouded and the rains came. There was enough precipitation to fill the trenches around the orange groves near the corner of Chapman Avenue and Kraemer Boulevard. California has just experienced its third driest year in its history.

We Will Lose The Symbol Of A Way Of Life

Placentia City Council

Dear Friends:

The "Death Knell" has sounded.

When I read the "Death sentence" for the Bradford Home I thought, "We should fly our flags at half staff. Something has died in our Fair City."

I am sorry that some means could not be found to preserve this Home and what it stood for. I must share part of the guilt because, while I voted to preserve it, and contributed a small amount toward the effort to preserve it, I know I should have done more.

To me this is not just a house. It represents a way of life that made our Country great. Mr. A.S. Bradford went to work at age fourteen for $6 a month and board. In 1888 he arrived in California with $35, having to leave his family in the East until he could earn enough money to send for them. He got a job doing manual labor. He worked long hard hours. Gradually he worked his way up, but not without setbacks, including a fire that destroyed his large barn and all its contents.

Mr. Bradford was one of the leaders and spent many hours in persuading the Santa Fe railroad to build a line through Placentia, without which we would not have had a City. He not only laid out the town site but he gave a lot as a building site for the first Church in town (The Presbyterian Church which the Bradford family has quietly supported through the years.) He gave a lot for the first home of the Placentia Round Table Club House. He helped organize our first bank and was a leader in organizing our first Chamber of Commerce. Later a son and grandson worked in the Chamber. He and a son devoted many years of service on our School Boards. He developed the first water well for our City, played a leading role in bringing gas to the homes of the new town. The Bradford Packing House, along with other business ventures, has given employment to many in our area. Through the years Mr. Bradford has been joined by his family in contributing to the growth and betterment of our Community and City. Since there is no record no one will ever know the number of people the Bradford Family has helped in many quiet ways.

The following thought has occurred to me (Maybe it has been discussed) It is going to cost considerable to demolish the old Home, landscape and care for the site where it stands. Would not this amount of money paint and repair the exterior and preserve the Home long enough to see if a new generation might cherish this gift and heritage enough to restore the interior? Maybe a new generation will find a way we have been unable to find.

Thank you for your service to our City, I appreciate it.

Sincerely,
George G. Key

A Number Of Questions

Copy To The Courier
Placentia City Council

As 1976 draws to a close, it's time to wish each of you a Happy New Year and to remind you that there are still a few loose ends left over from this year.

First, let us remind you that we are still awaiting answers to our questions regarding the financial affairs of the City. Some of these date back to last May and June. Our last formal attempt was a letter dated October 24, 1976 which you have so far ignored. We think the questions raised were serious enough to deserve a reply. Do you or do you not agree?

Second, we agree with your decision to continue with the County fire service contract. However an unanswered question remains. How many fire trucks does the City own? At the time of the original County contract, the City owned three Crown, one GMC, and one Seagrave. The GMC was sold to the highest bidder and the Seagrave leased to the Heritage Festival Committee.

At your October 21 meeting, a memorandum from the Director of Finance was received and filed. This memorandum listed City owned fire suppression equipment and recommended disposition if the contract was extended. Two Crown fire trucks were listed. We questioned one councilman before the action was taken and all three councilmen present at the end of the meeting about the third Crown. No answers were forthcoming. Again, at your December 21 meeting when you extended the County fire service contract, discussion was held about disposition of City owned equipment. Another memorandum from the Director of Finance again recommended sale of two fire engines.

Our question -- How many Crown Fire Engines does the City of Placentia own? If one has been disposed of in the last year or so, how, when, to whom, and for what price was this transaction made? This represents several Kilobucks of City assets. Don't just shrug it off.

Finally, at the same December 21 meeting, you apparently resolved the long hassle over the Bradford house. Perhaps you did the only thing left to you. In view of the unswerving opposition of the Staff, the close but negative vote on a controversially worded advisory (or is it now mandatory?) ballot issue, rumored threats of legal action or recall, and who knows what other pressures, perhaps you just got tired of the issue.

It is regrettable that you chose to do this as a non agenda item with no discussion. It is equally regrettable that you chose to ignore the wording of the motion you passed on the subject at your November 16 meeting. Many people expected this item to appear as a regular agenda item soon. Most probably wanted to see the issue settled one way or the other. It's too bad you decided to pull a sneaker.

Perhaps the final irony for the year is that your action called for allowing thirty days for receipt of bids. However, the legal advertisement allows only nineteen days from date of publication. Maybe there is a logical explanation for that too.

Anyway, better luck next year - Happy New Year.

Max and Ruth Ellis,
Placentia

Slurry Seal Nears Completion

With time out for rain, Placentia's slurry seal paving project, now in progress may be halted intermittently by inclement weather.

Ben Minamide, the city's Director of Public Works, said this week the program will continue as quickly as possible to complete resurfacing of streets still not covered.

The project this year includes slurry sealing of a total of 14.5 miles of the city's streets at a cost of $53,701.83. The first annual slurry seal program was completed last year on a $76,000 contract. This year's contractor is Ted R. Jenkins of Long Beach.

Scheduled for completion are six streets that were missed because of lack of material deliveries, Minamide said. Also Shady Lane and Lawn Avenue, the city's main thoroughfare, have had their schedules altered twice. Additional work on Yorba Linda Boulevard also is included.

many homes actually require work and the nature of the measures to be taken, must be determined by a future study.

"Until compliance is attained and verified by measurement it is recommended that occupancy permits not be granted for those uncompleted homes within the 300 foot noise impact area," the report concludes.

homes within 300 feet of the railroad are "suspect" as to noise compliance. Fifty-six homes are located within this area. Eight are still under construction; final inspection has been given for the other 48.

The staff report by Arnold Hamala, Director of Development Services continues: "Based on the test results, additional attenuation measures must be taken within the 300 foot noise impact area. How the interior noise requirements.

"The number of homes which do not comply and the degree by which they do not comply, is not yet known," the report states. One residence (125 San Jose) which was tested and found in compliance, is located approximately 300 feet from the tract boundary adjacent to the railroad.

"For the purposes of future testing, it is suggested that a

Bric-A-Brac Could Make A Bingo Game!

Anyone who has some extra bric a brac they would like to give away can be a good neighbor and donate it as Bingo prizes to the ILC Senior Citizens' directors suggested this week.

The Seniors, who are on limited incomes, meet each day at the Whittier Community Center for lunch. For most of the citizens it is their only social activity; directors report.

The lunch is provided free and so is the transportation. The rest is fun and games for those 60 and over who meet for five hours a day at the Center.

The group also needs a record player. Mrs. Sharlene Dunn, coordinator reports and card tables so the men can play card games.

There are no card tables in the building.

Materials for arts and crafts also would be useful. Mrs. Dunn points out as well as a camera and film and a public address system and an old piano in working condition would be highly prized.

The ILC program, which has been limited to 30 participants a day because of lack of funds, may be permitted to increase slightly in number in the near future, Mrs. Dunn says. The program is federally and locally funded.

For more information or to make donations, Mrs. Dunn may be reached at 993-8272 daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Whittier Center.

Chapman Widening Progresses

Expecting to start construction on the widening of Chapman Avenue from Murray Street to Kraemer Boulevard in the summer of 1978, Ben Minamide, Director of Public Works for Placentia, assessed Tuesday night that the project may be completed by January of 1979.

The widening is expected to cost approximately $855,400 with Orange County supplying half the money and the city the remainder from gasoline tax revenues.

The city of Placentia will ask the county for the additional $125,000 of the total amount from its 1977-78 budget. This is expected to supply sufficient funds for the work with the city having its funds available in the same year.

Undergrounding of utilities along the boulevard will occupy the first months, probably from April to August. Overall plans of the widening will entail relocating seven units. The length of the widening trajectory is seven tenths of a mile.

Placentia Golden Homeowners acres for individual lot development.

The homeowners, who are members of the Placentia Golden Homeowners' Association, have already turned to the courts for assistance where their petition has been denied by the Superior Court in Santa Ana. That decision is now on appeal.

The most recent Brea decision, which did not grant the homeowners an eastern berm buffer, apparently will lead to individual hearings on each of the lots as they are planned for development.

Arguing before the Brea council meeting was Placentia attorney, John W. Prager, Jr. one of the homeowners, who pointed out the incompatibility of the two uses.

Diane Parkinson, another homeowner emphasized that the Placentia property was zoned R-1, single family residential, before Brea designated the Union Oil property as industrial.

Brea Mayor Carol Weddle answered: "I don't think it's terribly germane who zoned what first. The question is whether the proposed uses are compatible."

The Placentia homeowners have been in contention for over two years with the city of Brea over the zoning. They have protested that decisions made concerning Brea homeowners have shown greater concern than those made against Placentia. Cited were the requirements placed against a bowling alley, which has not as yet been constructed.

Attorney Prager at the Board of Zoning Adjustment hearing, stated that the industrial development will have "a serious adverse affect on our living environment. We continue to honestly and sincerely believe that we are not getting a fair shake."

"The bowling alley in back of us would be a better use than an industrial tract with diesel trucks."

Lake Park Club Makes Donation

Members of the Lake Park Club, residents of the Lake Park Community in Yorba Linda, have donated $45 to Lend A Hand, a Placentia nonprofit volunteer organization.

The money was given for use by the Placentia group which seeks to alleviate family problems by collecting discarded and giving them without cost to families who are in need of them.

Mrs. Rosa Garcia, president of the club said that the gift is most appreciated and will be used for emergency situations. The organization is called upon at times, she explains, to meet a family emergency when the club is able to find resources to supply the need. The group, however, has no grants and is dependent on volunteer workers and donations.

"We will see that someone is helped by this," Mrs. Garcia, who with her husband, was named Citizen of the Year by the Placentia Chamber of Commerce last year, explained.

Workers Comp

There are seven million households in California, 4.7 million private homes and 2.3 million rental units. Every one of these households could be affected by a new California law which became effective on January 1, according to the California Committee on Household Workers' Compensation Insurance.

On that date the law extended workers' compensation benefits to a whole new segment of the working population who may be injured while on the job. These employees, part-time and casual workers, have not been afforded this protection in the past and California is one of the first states to put this extension of benefits into law.

Starting with the first minute of 1977, California residents who hire anyone to do any work around the house or garden, for however little time, will be held financially responsible to provide benefits if the employee is injured while working.

All reasonable medical care is covered, medical bills, medicine, hospital costs, tests and X-rays, crutches, everything necessary to cure the employee's injury.

Rehabilitation costs will also be provided and employees received a portion of lost wages, up to a maximum set by the California Legislature.

Additional payments are made for permanent disability, such as loss of sight, and if an employee dies as the result of injury, payment may be made to surviving dependents.

Certain liability insurance policies can include this coverage for as little as $5 per year but householders should not assume they automatically have this broadened endorsement.

The responsibility for any employer exists, regardless of the availability of insurance payments, so a check with an insurance agent, broker or company representative is in order.

Com. Smith On Carrier

Navy Lieutenant Commander William C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Smith of 1202 Limerick Drive, Placentia, is currently on an extended deployment with the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is the intelligence officer of the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier USS Nimitz, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

The missions of the Sixth Fleet are to protect U.S. citizens, shipping and interests in the Mediterranean, to deter aggression against our Western European allies, by maintaining mobile striking forces; to promote peace and stability in the Mediterranean area, and to create goodwill for the United States.

His ship is scheduled to visit Naples, Italy, Tunis, Tunisia, and Gibraltar during the current deployment.

Placentia Unified District Formed

BY CLAIRE TYNES

(Mrs. Tynes continues her history of the Placentia Unified School District).

1936 July 1 - The Placentia Unified School District was formed on July 1, 1936 as a result of legislation which provided that whenever boundaries of high school and elementary school districts which were governed by boards of identical personnel became coterminous, the districts were formed into unified districts.

Placentia was one of thirty six districts that was formed on July 1, 1936. The bills which brought this about were Senate Bill 542 and Assembly Bill 1205. Beverly Hills became a unified district at the same time under provisions of those bills.

The school board which performed this feat consisted of Warren Bradford, Burl Beard, Lawrence Lemke, Hermine B. Lowe, and Earl Mathis.

In 1939-40 County Report Placentia Unified School District showed ADA 680 Assessed Valuation $12,017,970.

1937-April 29, "Laying of the Cornerstone" and Dedication Exercises" were held for Valencia Auditorium which had been built under the PWA (Public Works Administration) for $69,930. The swimming pool and the gym were built at the same time under P.W.A.

The list of articles placed in the copper box in the corner stone of the auditorium include:

1. High School Annual, "Tesoros" - 1936
2. Communication from Mr. Bradford, President of Board
3. Program Auditorium Dedication, April 29, 1937
4. Courier, Friday, April 23, 1937
5. Courier, Friday, March 1937
6. Courier, Silver Anniversary Edition.
7. Letter from Mr. Ben Kraemer, 1st pupil of Placentia Schools

8. Signatures of all faculty members, students and employees of Placentia Unified School District.

9. Picture of High School faculty and students, 1936-37

10. Construction pictures of Elementary Building, primary and kindergarten building; auditorium, High School first unit and High School gymnasium.

11. Communication from A. P. Patten, District Superintendent of schools, 1944 - Yours truly arrived in town to take up residence in that earthquake damaged, condemned old Bradford

Ave. School Arts Building (or Character Manor as we named it; you had to be a character to live there!) for six of the happiest years of her life. Football games, (husband John was coach) chaperoning high school dances - which was more pleasure than duty - having babies, swapping recipes shopping at the Placentia Safeway - and eternally embarrassing herself by staring in open mouthed fascination at the Mexican ladies gossiping in their melodic language. There was the nightly gathering of the faculty families at the laundryroom (dozens and dozens of diapers you know) in the bewitching hour when the doughnut man down town had his first batch of doughnuts out of the fat.

Placentia was a "way of life" [to be continued...]

LINDA VISTA PHARMACY

Had it not been for World War II, we might never have had penicillin and other anti-biotics which followed. Until the war, the world depended on the infection-fighting sulfa drugs. These were being made in Germany where they had been developed.

When the war broke out, England was cut off from these sulfa drugs. It is no secret that infection and disease claim more victims than bullets during a war, so a frantic search began for something to replace the missing sulfa. Sir Alexander Fleming had discovered penicillin eleven years earlier, in 1928. Because of the war, it was finally developed for large scale use.

Don't wait for trouble to discover our super-fine prescription service. Plan now to let LINDA VISTA PHARMACY fill your next prescription. HANDY HINT: Store fuses on a shelf near fuse box so there's no confusion or waste of time when a burned-out fuse needs changing.

In "Seals" Cousteau and the crew of his boat, the "Calypso," photograph and study the world of the seal. "Coral Jungle" shows how the skeletons of animals called corals are cemented together over the ages forming reefs.

Pvt. Marbury Ends Marine Training

Marine Private Kevin P. Marbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin R. Marbury of 556 Swanson, Placentia, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

He joined the Marine Corps in August 1976.

Briggs Tax Relief Bill

Legislation which would provide homeowners with some much needed property tax relief has been introduced by Senator John V. Briggs (R-35).

Briggs has introduced Senate Constitutional Amendment #3, which would freeze the assessed value of a home at its current level.

Under the provisions of Briggs' bill, a property's assessed value would remain frozen until the property was sold, and at that time it would be reassessed.

"Under current assessment practices," Briggs said, "a homeowner often finds his home's assessed value (and his property tax bill) increasing each year."

"My bill will protect the homeowner from this continuous increase by freezing the value of a home at its current level and allowing for reassessment only when the property is sold," Briggs concluded.

Employees Contribute

The 350 employees of Children's Hospital of Orange County (CHOC) have pledged $95,394.79 to the CHOC Priority Program, the hospital's $3.5 million capital funds campaign.

The announcement was made by Vick Knight, CHOC's director of development and chairman of the employees drive.

"All the employees are extremely enthusiastic about this program," said Knight. "They are well aware of the importance of this campaign to CHOC's future, and through their generous support they have demonstrated their concern. We're very proud of them."

Booster Station Addition

December 23 marked the completion of the new natural gas-powered booster station addition on Highland Avenue. Ralph Shook, general manager of the Yorba Linda County Water District, announced.

Shook said installation of the new power source will give the power plant "additional reliability along with dual power." The booster station previously operated only on the more expensive electrical power unit.

"Hopefully, the natural gas operation will reduce our power costs and at the same time will give a backup system to the electrical power now that the gas power system is operational," Shook said.

The booster plant transfers district water from the Highland Avenue Reservoir to the reservoir at Lakeview Avenue and Bastanchury and to customers between those two points.

The $80,000 project is being built by Triad Mechanical of Stanton.

The Hornets have compiled a 55-3 record under head coach Colleen Riley during the past three seasons. Riley sees this year's team as "a young team that matured quickly." It wasn't just the starters that contributed to Fullerton's winning ways this year. Riley said "We had a very strong bench with many players that could be starters at other schools. Everyone on the team contributed. It was a team effort with no real set valuable players."

Hawks Short A Point For Third

by Brian Hilderbrand

Despite 20-point performances by John Heller and Steve Peacock, El Dorado's varsity basketball team lost a heartbreaking 56-55 decision to Kennedy for third place in the 11th Annual Santiago Holiday Tournament.

Heller, who wound up with 47 points in three games was awarded with All-Tournament honors, the only such Golden Hawk player so chosen.

El Dorado jumped off to a four point lead in the first period, with 3:06 left on the clock. A pair of corner jump shots by the Irish's Bill Way tied the score at 14-14 at the end of the stanza.

The Fighting Irish jumped off to a three point advantage at halftime, due largely to a seven point scoring spree by Jerry Syphens. ED was able to stay as close as they did thanks to eight second period points by Peacock.

Three points was still the difference in the score at the close of the third period as the Hawks outscored Kennedy 18-12. Heller poured in 10 points to pace El Dorado.

Eight of Kennedy's 14 fourth quarter points were the result of free throws. Half of the Irish's charity tosses were popped in by Bill Blasfide.

With a score tied 51-50 and 1:21 left to play, Syphens connected on a jump shot from the top of the key. The bucket proved to be important, as it put Kennedy in the lead for good.

El Dorado had a chance to tie it at 51 seconds showing in the clock. Heller had two free throws shots, but managed to sink only one.

Down 56-53, the Hawks showed a "never say die" attitude as Peacock made good a shot, pulling ED to within one point, 56-55. Kennedy, however, got possession of the ball, and let time run out.

"We're still making the little mistakes," El Dorado coach Nash Rivera stated after the loss. Rivera feels that ball handling and rushing shots are areas for concern.

"I have not seen the improvement that I expected," Rivera related. "We haven't been aggressive enough going after loose balls and rebounds."

Along with Heller and Peacock's scoring exhibitions, Rob Linn turned in an eight point game. Joe Martin added three, while Todd Boorman and Rick Hayes each pitched in with two points. El Dorado was without the services of Jim Babcock, a valuable guard, who was out with the flu.

Blasford and Syphens shared scoring honors for Kennedy, each with 13 points. Jerry Alfara tallied 10, and Way added nine points. Jeff Burns (7), and Perry Johnson (4) also aided in the win.

El Dorado's sole win in the tournament came against Westminster in the opening round. The Hawks handed the Lions' a 63-55 defeat.

Heller led all scorers with 20 points. Peacock and Babcock also assisted with 15 and 12 points, respectively.

ED's record slipped to 6-5 in pre-league play with the two losses. The Hawks used the tournament as a tune up for league, which started yesterday.

The Hawks will travel to Canyon on Friday for 7:30 p.m. Orange League contest.

Here is the end of another year. Time to take down the Christmas decorations and store them away. You need some new ideas to draw a new look for the past year and start the new year.

Have you not noticed bare tree branches look so empty after you have taken the tree and removed the Christmas decorations from the house. It is a good time to take a step back and see how the tree looks and begin to plan for the new year.

One of the best ways to make a bare room look like a new room is to use a few simple items. A few simple items can make a big difference. A few simple items can make a big difference. A few simple items can make a big difference.

The Orange Art Association will hold their next regular meeting, Wednesday evening, January 5 at 7:30 in the Little Theater of the Orange High School at Shafter and Walnut Streets in Orange. Entrance to the Little Theater is on the north end of the building on Shafter Street.

Wallace Fisher, a resident of the city of Orange for the past two years, will be the demonstrator for the evening. Primarily self-taught, he paints murals and bookstores in constant research of the old masters techniques, thereby brings four centuries of painting mastery.

His most recent credits include being catalogued in the Smithsonian Institution, the National Gallery, Washington, D.C., and the National Portrait Gallery.

He invites any and all questions and opinions, all of which will make this demonstration a very interesting one. The public is invited, there is no admission charge.

Christmas Greetings

The students, faculty and staff of Valencia extend the pride of being a part of a great American high school, to the community.

We wish all of the community we serve a most warm and peaceful holiday season. We look forward to a year of progress and achievement in 1977.

Food Drive

Winning the canned food drive with over 112 cans to spare, the class of '80 earned the prize of free admission to the rock opera, "Tommy".

During third and fourth period the winning class will view the movie starring the Who's Roger Daltrey on Jan. 12.

The same evening two showings will be available for the public at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $1 each.

In aiding the needy families of the community, VHS totaled over 1200 cans. Doris Black, coordinator of the 1976 Christmas Clearing Bureau, says "Congratulations on having the best showing in the district."

Trophy Winners

Valencia's speech team continued its winning ways at a league tournament held at Santa Ana Valley High School.

According to speech coach, John De Nike, 30 schools were involved in two days of competition with Valencians David Hammon and Steve Bruce winning trophies in debate. Mike Meston, Pat Moynihan, Dave Norman and Bob Edwards won certificates of superiority in extemporaneous speaking and came within one point of taking first place in their event.

the theme Christmas in California. The contest is conducted each year to promote creative Christmas spirit on campus. Elizabeth Brown's class walked away with the sweepstakes award. The winning board cleverly captured the Spanish heritage representative of Christmas in California with colorful pinatas.

Future Farmers of America finished the year by helping the Bank of America prepare their float for the Pasadena Rose Parade and sponsored the Valencia Christmas Formal at the Airport Inn.

MOST WINS

Knuckleball relief pitcher Charlie Hough of the Dodgers won more games, 12, than any other relief pitcher in the National League in the 1976 season.

Two Wins Buoy Troy

by Scott Emblidge

Troy High School's basketball team got off to a dismal start but finished the pre-league season with two straight wins in the Brea Tournament.

The Warriors lost their Brea Tourney opener to a strong La Mirada team but went on to defeat La Quinta and then Pacifica in the consolation finals.

Against La Mirada the Warriors led at the half 24-27 but fell behind in the third quarter. Ralph Castle hit a pair of free throws with 3:24 left in the final period to give Troy a 50-49 advantage.

The Matadors, who eventually won the top, rev crown, took the lead to stay after that and went on to a 57-54 victory.

As has been the case in most previous games, Kirby Sand led the Warrior's attack with 16 points. Brett Miller and Castle each threw in 14 points to aid the Warrior offense.

Against La Quinta, Troy had one of their top games so far this year, grabbing a 70-59 victory. The Warriors got an unexpected scoring boost from Steve Laverne who scored 16 points. Sand was the only other Warrior in double figures with 15 points.

In the consolation final, Troy put it together again beating Pacifica 67-54. The Warriors held a 18-10 first quarter lead only to be tied at the half.

The backcourt provided over half of Troy's points in the game with Sand, Miller and Laverne scoring 18, 15, and 12 points respectively.

The Warriors play their second Freeway League game against Sunny Hills Friday night in Troy's gym. The Lakers finished second in the Brea Tournament and both teams should be up for their traditional rivalry.

BACK HOME

Preston Gomez, new Dodger coach, returns to the Los Angeles team after managing San Diego and Houston, plus coaching at St. Louis.
